Agricultural High School Closes Its Most Successful Session.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Appomattox, Va., May 25.—The final exercises of the Appomattox Agricultural High School took place here last night. The graduating class, consisting of President Walter Durham, Wilson bur Smith, valedictorian; Ernest Smith, orator; Miss Lobelia Drinkard, class prophet; Miss Jessie Walker, historian, and Miss Gladys Smith, Miss Jennie Purdum, and Robert Walton, held its exercises before a large audience. Dr. W. S. Currell, of Washington and Lee W. S. Currell, of Washington and Lee University, delivered the address, and Colonel R. F. Burke delivered the three gold medals. The medals were won, first honor, by Walter Durham, agricultural medal, Alfred Obrien; im-provement medal, Miss Jessie Walker. On Thursday morning a May pole dance was given by the younger On Thursday morning a May pole dance was given by the younger scholars, and was a very delightful entertainment. On Thursday evening the Lee Literary Society held its annual celebration. Don Alosses was presiding efficer of the occasion. After an oration by Wilbur Smith, and a recitation by Miss Mary Beale, the debate was held on the subject. 'Resolved, That the American Indians have been treated and are still being treated infamously by the white people.' The debaters for the affirmative were Robert Walton and Alfred Tweedy; the negative was argued by Ashton Harrison and Pierce Oder, The judges, consisting of Miss Mary Paris, Leroy Smith and R. L. Burke, Jr., awarded the decision in favor of the affirmative. Refreshments were served each evening.

The assiston has been very success-affirmative. Refreshments were served each evening.

The session has been very successful. The session has grown wonderfully within the past few years, the total enreiment increasing from 125 to 239 this session. There were only four teachers four years ago, now there are ten found in the faculty. They are: Lindsay Crawley, principal; Miss Mary Cobbs, Miss Nannie Kime, Miss Foca Wray, Miss Mary Irby, Miss Alice Hubbard, Miss Estelle Thornton. Miss Annie Hobson, Mrs. L. Crawley, and Miss Kate Franklin.

At a board meeting recently held it was decided to make additional improvements this summer. There will be spent immediately upon the close of school $2,500 for additional improvements. Laboratories for chemistry and physics, manual training and cooking departments will be perfectly equipped, and several hundred dollars will be spent on a library. A green house is being ordered, and lights are being put in, besides additional equipment for agricultural work. It is the plan of the board soon to build suitable demiltories to accommodate the increasing patronase.
